Reimagining Student Writers

Writing in the Sciences: Exploring Strategies for Engaged Learning

Thursday, March 1
12:30-1:45
Tolley 304

Join faculty for a conversation on how writing is used in the sciences. How can we work together to support learning in STEM and allied disciplines? What are some writing to learn assignments that really work? How can we use writing to promote engaged learning across the university?

Katie M. Becklin, Assistant Professor, Biology
Walter Freeman, Assistant Teaching Professor, Physics
Lenny Grant, Assistant Professor, Writing Studies, Rhetoric, and Composition
Patrick W. Berry, Assistant Professor, Writing Studies, Rhetoric, and Composition (moderator)
