Endings

Write a piece in which you reflect on the end of this war or on the end of a war in which you were deployed or to which you were connected. What does it mean to “end” a war?

Beginnings

We are on the cusp of a New Year: 2012. Write down some goals for yourself as a writer for this coming year. What do you want to work on, what projects, stories, ideas remain to be written or recorded?
